Unless you are properly registered you have only until September 26 to qualify to vote at the November 5 general election. You will want to vote so by all means check your registration today and don't put it off and forget it until it is too late. Great decisions rest with the citizens of this country November 5 and unless you are qualified to cast your ballot you are neglecting one of the greatest privileges of your citizenship. Register before September 26 and vote on November 5.

Already red caps and red shirts, the uniform of the deer hunter, are quite in evidence in Truckee. Gun barrels shine like new and most conversations center about hunting. The time draws near and Monday the woods will be full of hunters. We caution again to be sure its a buck with the required number of points before you take aim.

Premium lists and rules of entry for the Third Annual Nevada County Fair and Horse Show are now available at the Sierra Sun office or with the secretary of your chamber of commerce. Truckee, as a vital part of Nevada County, should by all means have banner representation at the fair and with the long list of premiums, available for a large variety of exhibits, there is no reason under the sun why we should not receive our share of the awards.

The dispatch with which Dan Smith subscribed nearly $1000 for the promotion of winter sports in Truckee this year, leaves little room to doubt that local interests are anxious and willing to support a worthwhile program. The $1000 raised added to the $1000 in necessary equipment to be provided by the Truckee Public Utility District leaves only a matter of $500 before the quota fixed by the Truckee Outing Club as needed for the project, is complete. Continued cooperation will result in great benefits. Dissension will result in failure.

State Aircraft Industries Report 400 Per Cent Work Increase in Over Year Ago

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—The state department of employment today reported a 400 per cent increase in placements in the rapidly expanding aircraft industry in the past year.

The department placed 1700 workers in the industry in July compared to 300 in June of 1939 and 900 in July, 1939. The figures represent placements made only by the state department, other figures indicate that employment increased about 10 per cent in the industry during the year.

Of the 1700 placements, 37 per cent were reported by the San Diego office, 17 per cent by the Los Angeles office, 16 per cent by the Glendale office, 8 per cent by Long Beach and 6 per cent by San Bernardino.

Most of the jobs filled were those requiring some skill. Principal occupations in which workers were placed were riveters, sheet metal workers and assemblers.

Persons under 21 years of age accounted for two-fifths of all new workers employed in the aircraft industry. In the Glendale area the promotion of juniors was 70 per cent and 50 per cent in the San Bernardino district.

LOCAL MAN FINDS OLD RECORDS NEAR HERE

Recently Robert Caves, Truckee laborer and union head, was working in Sierra Valley at the site of what was once the thriving little community of Howland Flat. There he found submerged under mud and water, old documents containing tax lists and other official papers of the County of Sierra.

The oldest of these documents was dated May 5th, 1864 and was an itemized statement of the apportionment of county road tax funds. The total apportionment among eight communities, not including Downieville and Loyalton, was $1099.36. There are many of these old documents ranging from the county treasurer's report of receipts of school taxes to promissory notes, poll tax receipts stubs and blank license forms. The dates are all in the period from 1864 to 1876 and the bulk have to do with school administration in Sierra county when J. H. Thorp was county superintendent of schools.

Goal Is Near In Local Drive For Snow Sport Fund

Nearly $2,000 Now Available To Provide Truckee Winter Sports

MONEY IS SUBSCRIBED

Work Continued On Hill With Volunteers Active On Week-Ends

Dan D. Smith, who has spent the past week soliciting funds for the Truckee Outing Club in order to finance a worthwhile winter sports program, announced today that nearly $1,000, the $1,000 to be provided in equipment by the Truckee Public Utility District, has been subscribed.

A list of the contributors will be published next week, Smith said. Smith said that in nearly every instance local people were vitally interested in the proposed program and were willing to contribute to its fulfillment.

The budget has been arranged so as to provide an adequate, workable up-ski pull, repairing the scaffold and pavilion and clearing a section of the hill across the river from Truckee where the sports have been conducted for many years.

Each week-end a group of local men spend hours on the site, clearing brush and making the hill ready for the motorized equipment to be installed later. Surveys have been completed and it is expected that within the next two or three weeks actual construction work will begin.

BEAR VALLEY FISH PLANTING BASE HAS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Bear Valley fish planting crew of the division of fish and game, operating from Emigrant Gap has just completed a most successful season, with the planting of 440,160 Loeb Leven, 1,191,389 rainbow and 385,196 eastern brook trout. Streams and lakes in El Dorado, Nevada, Placer and Sierra have been well stocked with young fish by this crew, according to Alan C. Taft, chief of the bureau of fish conservation. Of particular interest is the planting of 400,000 3-inch rainbow trout in Lake Tahoe. These trout were raised at the Mt. Shasta Hatchery and transported in specially equipped trucks to the lake.

Mrs. G. D. Oliver, Former Resident Of Hobart, Dead

Had Been In Poor Health For Long Time Before Death

Mrs. May K. Oliver, wife of George D. Oliver, formerly of Hobart Mills, passed away in Berkeley on September 8th. She is survived by her husband, three sons, Tom K. Oliver of Susanville, Charles M. Oliver of Reno and George D. Oliver, Jr., of Modesto, and four grandchildren, Nancy and Tim Oliver of Susanville, Bobby of Modesto and Anna May of Reno.

Mrs. Oliver has been in poor health for several years and an invalid for the past two years. Since the old mill town closed, the Olivers have made their home in Berkeley.

During their many years residence at Hobart Mills, Mrs. Oliver was loved by all and was always most considerate of any family where there was illness or trouble and was among the first to offer sympathy and help. The sincere sympathy and mourning of hundreds of friends of the family go with them in their sadness.

The funeral was held at The Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland Tuesday morning and was attended by many former residents of Hobart who now live in the bay region.

TRUCKEE REGION HAS PROMISE OF FINE HUNT

Truckee hunters who each season make a survey of the surrounding territory to spot the deer, report that the season which opens Monday, September 16, has all indications of being one of the most lucrative for many years.

Abundant deer were reported in the area from Lake Tahoe to far north of Truckee and east to the Nevada-California State Line.

All animals are reported in good condition.

Each year hundreds of hunters from all parts of the state frequent this area and there is no exception of this rule to be expected this year from the number of inquiries being received from all sections of California.

HIGH SCHOOL HALTS CLASSES ON MONDAY

Rather than experience the usual small classes on the first day of the deer hunting season, September 16, the opening day, has been declared a holiday by the trustees of Meadow Lake Union High School. In the past years efforts to hold classes on the opening of the deer season have resulted in miserable attendances, nearly all the boys taking advantage of the hunt.

LOCAL FIREMEN SAVE AAA GARAGE WITH EFFICIENT ACTION

Only the fast and efficient efforts of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department and the Forest Service crew and equipment saved the Truckee AAA garage and perhaps other nearby buildings from destruction by fire Saturday afternoon.

The blaze, according to Fire Chief N. F. Dolley, resulted from a short circuit in the electric wiring in the sleeping quarters of the night watchman in the rear of the garage.

The loss was confined to the one room, although the blaze had gained considerable headway before being noticed. The loss was fixed at $100.

Suspect Held In Attack Attempt On Small Girl

Fiend Evades 200 Searchers In This District After Assault

GIRL NOT HARMED

Description of Suspect Fits Man Going West At Norden

BULLETIN

Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley and Patrolman Arthur Barrick drove to the Nevada State Line this morning to question a man nabbed at Carson City answering the description of the one wanted in the local attempted attack case. Confronted by the little girl, the man easily proved mistaken identity, although admitting he was here yesterday.

Capitol police and officers of other nearby towns are keeping a close watch for the fiend who made good his escape last night. All clues are being run to earth.

More than 200 men, many of whom closed their stores or temporarily quit their jobs, joined in the search yesterday afternoon and last night for "the red headed man in the green pants", a degenerate of the lowest order who brutally assaulted a five-year-old Truckee girl but was frightened away, officers say, before he could accomplish his fiendish attempt.

The latest trace of the suspect was reported from Norden where a Southern Pacific trackwalker said he talked to a man answering the description of the potential murderer. He said that the man told he was wanted by Truckee officers. The trackwalker had not heard of the brutal assault and did not hold the culprit, who boarded a west-bound freight train.

Train Stopped

Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley, who headed the futile search, and Sheriff Carl Tobiasen, who came here last evening, notified Nevada City and Colfax of the trackwalker's story and the train was stopped at Colfax where it was thoroughly searched without result.

The little girl was playing near her home when she was accosted by the man, about 24 or 25 years of age, with red hair, medium build and wearing dark green trousers, a white shirt and no hat.

Asked to Aid in Search

He asked the little girl to aid him in searching for a ring which he purportedly lost near Trout creek. The girl readily joined him. As soon as they were out of sight of dwellings the man seized her and with a threat of "If you scream, I'll choke you to death," started removing her clothing. One hand and arm he kept close over her face during this time.

Heard Commotion

A neighbor woman heard the commotion and thinking two grammar school boys were engaged in a fight, asked her husband to investigate. As the latter approached the scene, the fiend dropped the girl, who was not physically harmed, and ran up the hill north of town. He circled back into the willows and brush and was lost to sight.

Alarm Sounded

Dolley was notified and the fire alarm was sounded. Scores of men and boys rushed to the search, many armed with guns and all seething with hatred for the man they were seeking.

Seen On Donner Creek

Chester Matson, telephone company employe, sighted a man answering the description running up Donner Creek near the highway underpass on the Tahoe road little more than half an hour after the crime was committed. The man was too far away to be readily stopped and he evaded Matson in the brush and rocks. A west-bound freight train passed near at that time and it is believed the fellow boarded it.

Patrolman Arthur Barrick was notified. Continued on Page Six

CONTRIBUTION TO FREEDOM

Choose any alert boy or girl who stood for anything in the class of 1940. Find out by a few friendly questions what he or she wants.

Romance! That will be the answer. Romance of courtship and marriage, romance of climbing the ladder of life with more income from year to year, more power, more freedom to enjoy all the things that loom large in the heart of youth.

Your alert young friend may find his first job right at hand in business or farming. Or he may elect more years of training for medicine, engineering, law, or the other professions. But the boy or girl you question knows that in our country in normal times, complete freedom of choice will be given. In America the choice of a career is entirely free.

And the boy or girl knows that this freedom is the result of the American system of free enterprise, says Nation's Business. Every career, from the presidency of our nation to similar leadership in any profession, corporation or other institution, is open to the talents of him or her who can climb. This freedom was won for us by hosts of Americans who chose their own careers, installed as much machinery and other aids as they needed, did what selling was necessary to keep their farms and factories busy, and used whatever aids in selling were legitimate and in the public interest.

One of these aids is advertising. Advertising spreads the news and speeds up the sales of only those products and services which deserve to be speeded. Any intelligent young American, no matter what distorted or ignorant teaching he has received in school, is far smarter than those teachers and text book writers who claim that the intensive advertising of good commodities and services has been a detriment.

CONSTITUTION DAY

The Constitution of the United United States, ratified on September 17, 1787 by the Constitutional Convention, reaches its 153d year next week.

As citizens we can, and should, feel proud of that record. Few if any nations have had as their guiding star a constitution so firmly rooted in the cause of representative government, and yet flexible enough to match the growth of a nation over a century and a half from a little cluster of 13 states to a continent-spanning republic. In the 153 years since that historic day in Convention Hall, Philadelphia, great changes have swept this land. Many of them were wrought by the pathfinders, fortune hunters, settlers and builders of inland empires dauntlessly moving west of the Appalachians and beyond the rolling Mississippi, pushing into the Northwest territory, pouring over the Oregon trail, advancing into the Midwestern plains and into the sweeping rangelands of the southwest, streaming down across the Rockies into the valleys of El Dorado, searching for gold, for land, for opportunity. Yet nearly all were bearers of the faith in representative government, in aggressive self-reliance, and in the freedom that the Constitution and its Bill of Rights eloquently championed.

In a world rocked with catastrophic changes, let us remember that our constitution is one of the oldest in the whole world. Neither wars, civil or foreign, have shaken or altered it. Nor will they ever, if the source of our constitution's strength remains true and unwavering. That source—and that strength—both lies in the heart and mind of each citizen.

WE REPLACE "TOY WEAPONS"

In National Guard maneuvers currently in progress in the United States, soldiers simulated real warfare with toy weapons made from gaspipes and blocks of wood. Similarly, army trucks bore placards to indicate that they were supposed to be "tanks".

These episodes should remind Americans of practical problems that must be realistically faced.

A modern army is only as strong as the war materials it possesses. Only industry can provide the nation with arms. And it faces a tremendous job.

To perform that job successfully, industry needs public help and public understanding of its problems. The present clamor for raising an army should not obscure the extremely pressing problem of arming our soldiers.

The unequivocal support that industry is giving our national defense program is a matter of fact and record. In connection with it, remembering the picture of real men drilling with toy guns and riding in mythical tanks, we need constant reminders that the manufacturing job is a primary one in American national defense today.—Exchange.

THESE ARE MY JEWELS

Our Nation's Safety

THE DEFENSE ADVISORY COMMISSION

The task of the National Defense Advisory Commission is to see that the Army and Navy get what they need, when they need it, with no ifs, ands or buts.

Why the Army and Navy need these supplies is no concern of the Commission. How, or where, or when the Army and Navy will use its equipment is no concern of the Commission. That is the job of Congress and the President, as Commander-in-Chief of our armed forces.

The responsibility of the National Defense Advisory Commission is to find out what the Army and Navy need, know where to get it, and see that it is delivered. The Commission draws no specifications, signs no contracts. It merely advises, aids in negotiations, and facilitates production.

In ordinary times the Army and Navy have no difficulty in obtaining supplies. Times of emergency call for extraordinary expansion. That's when we need experts, men who know the complicated machinery of buying, moving, and manufacturing on a huge scale. In normal times they head the great corporations that supply the nation. In an emergency they serve the nation directly.

The raw materials must come from farms, forests, and mines. Chemicals in vast quantities must be produced. Important critical materials must be stored in advance. Tin and rubber are already being accumulated in stock piles. Synthetic rubber shows great promise for the future. All our own raw materials are being catalogued.

Availability of manufacturing facilities must be checked against transportation limitations and availability of manpower.

If we call on our military forces for protection, we cannot and must not expect them to go out without equipment. To see that this job is done is the responsibility of all of us.

To help guide this work, the President called on the nation's leaders in seven fields, whose special knowledge the nation needs. They are serving now without pay. Most of their expert assistants also serve without pay. Others have been borrowed, with clerical staff from Government agencies.

Raw Materials

The primary task is to insure a continuous supply of raw materials for our factories. This responsibility is assigned to the Industrial Materials Division under Edward R. Stettinius, Jr. He has resigned as Chairman of the Board of the United States Steel Corporation, to serve for nothing a year. He is in for the duration. Backed by an imposing array of experts, Mr. Stettinius will get everything from steel for armor plate to cotton cloth for handkerchiefs. He has helped secure strategic and critical raw materials. He has helped obtain supplies of 100 octane gasoline. He has asked for the expansion of the Tennessee Valley Authority's power producing facilities to insure adequate electric energy for aluminum production vital to the aircraft program.

When it comes to making things for the Army and Navy—airplanes, tanks, machine guns, uniforms, miles of shoe laces—in fact all supplies needed, a Production Division is functioning under William S. Knudsen, on leave from his regular job as President of General Motors.

Production Division

The division of responsibility between Mr. Stettinius and Mr. Knudsen was described by Mr. Knudsen like this: "Ed," he said, "will bring in the stuff. Everything is raw material until I start to cut it up." "Cutting it up" involves the fullest possible use of all our available manufacturing facilities—bigger plants where bigger plants are needed, conversion of plants to war work that are now engaged in peace work, and finally, construction of new plants. Mr. Knudsen's Production Division clears contracts for billions of dollars. Production lines are already rolling.

Transportation Division

Watching the transportation lines to see that there are no snarls that will cut off vital supplies of raw materials is the task of Mr. Ralph Budd, President of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. In addition to seeing that Mr. Stettinius' raw materials move to Mr. Knudsen's plants, the Division of Transportation is working on acquiring special rolling stock for handling troops and their equipment. This rolling stock will be purchased by the Government. Waterways, pipe lines, airlines and truck lines, are also being surveyed so that their capacities will be known and ready for any emergency.

Labor Division

To see that the Raw Materials Division's forests, mines and fields, and the Production Division's factories have a supply of manpower, Sidney Hillman, President of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, heads the Division of Labor Supply. A training program in the vocational schools has already enrolled thousands, particularly those who feel the need for new training to retrieve their earlier skills. This division has also organized a Labor Advisory Board consisting of representatives of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O., together with the Railroad Brotherhoods. The Division has already been helpful in averting several serious production stoppages.

Agricultural Division

The Agricultural Division, under Mr. Chester Davis, of the Federal Reserve Board, is at work on the problem of plant location for defense purposes. Surplus labor, particularly in agricultural areas, will be utilized. The Division will also aid in collecting supplies of important agricultural products and is vitally interested in maintaining the parity between agricultural and industrial prices. One of the main functions is to prevent shortages and utilize farm surpluses.

Division of Price Stabilization

This problem of price stabilization is a mighty complex subject. To handle this, Leon Henderson of the Securities and Exchange Commission, has organized a division to determine the effects of the defense program on the nation's price structure. If prices of materials appear to be getting out of hand, voluntary agreements with producers are sought. If this fails, recommendations for appropriate action will be made.

Division of Consumer Protection

Aside from protecting the public against unjustified increases in the articles we need for daily existence, the Division of Consumer Protection, under Miss Harriet Elliott, Dean of Women in the University of North Carolina, has laid the groundwork to prepare us physically for our defense responsibilities. The Division will emphasize the importance of health and public welfare in the defense program.

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12 —(U.P.)—California's primary election law, under fire for many years but particularly since the recent primary election, has produced some peculiar situations in its time.

The provision in the law that a candidate must win his own party's nomination is one of the stumbling blocks. Thus, for example, if a registered Democrat files on more than one party ticket, he must win the Democratic bid. Losing his own party nomination disqualifies him for the general election, regardless of his standing in other contests.

This situation occurred in several assembly districts. In Sacramento, center of the bitter "purge" campaign by the governor against his three legislative opponents, Democrat Chester Gannon lost that party nomination to John Edward Cain but won the Republican bid. Likewise, Gordon Fleurey, the other Republican candidate, suffered defeat by Gannon so neither were eligible to go on the November ballot for the G. O. P.

Rather Republican

In San Bernardino county, where Gordon Corwin retired from the 73rd assembly district, H. George Cunningham won the Democratic nomination but was a registered Republican, so Waldo Willhoft, another Republican, won the G. O. P. nod and Cunningham was disqualified.

In the 3rd district Lloyd W. Lowrey and J. C. Marshall were both Democrats. Lowrey was nominated by the Democrats and Marshall was disqualified even though he won the Republican bid.

The same was true in the 2nd district, where Clint Fulcher, a conservative Democrat incumbent, was running a neck and neck race with William Gunlock for the Democratic nod, with absentee ballots deciding the issue (in favor of Gunlock). Fulcher was unopposed on his Republican filing but was disqualified.

Opposition Possible

In situations of this kind, the county central committee of the party not represented on the ballot in November has the option of selecting someone to go on the ballot. This must be done by October 1 and any party member is eligible except anyone defeated in the primary. So in the affected districts, it is likely that both parties will be on the ballot.

Quite a few office holders have been elected after being nominated by the committee in this manner, including Seth Millington, assemblyman from Butte county who figured in a "purge" campaign and barely won his Democratic nomination in the primary.

It is unlikely that any concerted campaign for a change in the law will come from the legislature because all the advantage rests with the candidate. If he can win both nominations at the primary, he saves the expense of another election.

The chief criticism comes where a candidate wins several nominations at organizations to mobilize human resources into constructive channels; meetings with retailers, organized consumer groups' manufacturers of consumers' goods and wholesalers. A major effort is directed toward preventing unjustifiable increases in the prices we pay; increases in living costs that would handicap our efforts to prepare ourselves physically for instance for such responsibilities as we might face in an emergency.

William H. McReynolds, Administrative Assistant to the President, has been designated as Secretary to the Commission.

This whole stupendous effort must go ahead rapidly and smoothly. It requires teamwork of the highest order. At every turn the actions of this Commission will affect the lives of all the people of the United States. This Commission can only help the President and the Military Services. The ultimate success of the program is up to the people.

the primary and the voters of other parties have no choice in the general election other than the representative of a rival party. This cross-filing has come to the point where it is difficult to tell in which party a candidate is registered. It is particularly effective for incumbents, whose names generally are better known.

After the law became effective during the days of Governor Hiram Johnson, the Republican party was so predominant that it meant little to win the Democratic nomination. Now the Democratic party has increased to an approximate 5 to 3 majority and the problem of cross-filing is acute.

Olson Attacks System

Governor Olson has made bitter attacks on the system, which was chiefly responsible for so many anti-Olson candidates being elected in the primary. He declared it "has just about accomplished the ruin of the two major parties as effective instruments of effective democratic government."

Olson summed up his arguments against the primary law as follows:

1. It confuses and misleads the voters.
2. It defeats the purposes of partisan politics.
3. Cross filing defeats the purposes of citizens who believe that political parties should be responsible organizations.
4. Makes it all the easier for special interests to influence and control election results.

Steamer 'Tahoe' Goes To Watery Grave After Forty-Four Years of Riding O'er Lake Tahoe's Waves

by ANNE ANDERSON
(Sierra Sun Staff Correspondent)

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 12—Only a memory of a graceful, white steamer remains in the hearts of Tahoeites who learned sadly of the sinking of the larger steamer ever to sail proudly o'er the blue lake waters last Wednesday when the old boat, towed by a puffing little launch, was taken from her last resting place at Tahoe City pier to near Glenbrook where she was sunk to her grave in the deep waters of the lake for which she was named.

Faster and smaller boats now circle the lakeshore daily, taking the place of the veteran "Tahoe" which was launched at Glenbrook in 1896 with much ceremony. Built by the D. L. Bliss family of the Comstock Lode days, she was 168 feet, 9 inches long, of 154 tons displacement and had 1200 horsepower engines. Built at the Union Iron works in San Francisco, she was brought to Glenbrook in sections and assembled there, a team of 18 horses being necessary to haul the boiler—the heaviest piece—from Carson City to Glenbrook. Powered by wood-burning engines, she made 18½ knots per hour on the maiden voyage. Later the engines were converted to oil burners.

Her first captain was E. J. Pomin, patriarch of the prominent Pomin family. He was followed by Edmund Hunkin, who piloted the pride of the lake until 1932.

Many famous persons took the lakeshore trip on the Tahoe and a trip to the Lake of the Sky seemed incomplete without seeing it from the loved boats deck. But the blue waters are a fitting bed for the noble old craft which must surely have gradually disintegrated through the years and would likely have had her flawless sides chiseled with the names of the publicity-seeking public as well as becoming a parking place for the waste papers, cartons and other debris of the careless.

Last year the Bliss family sent the famous old Meteor, which was put out in 1876, to her last resting place in the same manner. The hull of the Tahoe was covered with plates of ¾-inch steel.

A touching feature of the burial was the fact that part of the Tahoe's deck came drifting into Tahoe City's shores on Friday close to the place where she was usually docked. The piece of the old boat came drifting in between the pier and the breakwater as if it knew its destination.

Local residents who love the lake and its history have salvaged small pieces of the deck to keep as souvenirs. All who loved her hope the grand old boat may "Rest in Peace."

Placerville and Truckee Women Named to Club Posts at Tahoe Meeting of Tri-County Board

by I. M. EDWARDS
(Special Sierra Sun Correspondent)

Many interesting reports and plans for the coming year were made at the Tri-County Board of the state federation of women's clubs meeting held at Lake Tahoe Community Center on September 5th.

Delegates representing the women's clubs of Nevada, El Dorado and Placer counties were graciously welcomed by Mrs. Willis Hevel, president of the Tahoe Women's Club. The resignation of Mrs. Hazel Hazlum, tri-county president, was accepted with many regrets as she had done a splendid piece of work in the preceding year. Mrs. Reba Sinclair of the Shakespeare Club at Placerville was elected president for the coming year. Mrs. Yell Nobles of Truckee is first vice president and Mrs. Delbert Niguel of Cool is secretary. The following calendar for the year was announced: October 29th, Tri-County convention at Nevada City, January 28th meeting at Rocklin, February 28th Tri-County convention at Loomis; April 10th, board meeting at Cool; May 12th, Tri-County convention at Lincoln; May 7th and 8th will be the state convention at San Jose.

A delicious tea was served by the Tahoe women as hostesses. The following delegates were present: Mrs. Harriet Amstalden, Mrs. Reba Sinclair, Mrs. Chas. Hand and Mrs. Don M. Hoffman from Placerville; Mrs. Jerrold Seawell, Mrs. Carrie Brown, Mrs. Don Bass and Mrs. C. H. Preston from Roseville; Mrs. Robert Niguel from Cool and Mrs. Agnes R. Mahne, Mrs. Marjorie Zoebel, Mrs. Ila Martin, Mrs. Olla Tonini and Mrs. Lena Goode from Truckee.

Don't forget that date you have with the boy-friend for the Autumn Dance at the Lake Tahoe Community Center, Saturday, May 14th. Prizes will be given for all different kinds of dances and this will be your chance to win one. And maybe you will have the lucky number on the beautiful hand-made quilt donated by Mrs. Sam Goss and exhibited at Atherton's Store. You will not want to miss a chance like that. And the refreshments—that will be something to look forward to, also. Save up the pennies for there will be interesting things to buy. eB sure and come for it will be a date you'll be talking about the rest of the season.

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 12—James Worden, Lake Tahoe ski club ace who was seriously injured last winter while representing California at the Jeffers Cup races in Sun Valley, was honored on Saturday with a surprise party which feted his 20th birthday.

Refreshments including the conventional cake and candles, were served by his mother, friends and young people who attended.

Worden will leave for San Francisco Tuesday for X-ray and treatment for his injured leg which is still in a walking cast. The young man intends to take up his skiing again as soon as he is able.

Placer County Reunion

An affair that always attracts a large crowd of Placer county and ex-Placer county residents—the annual Placer County Reunion—will be held next Sunday in Mosswood Park in Oakland.

W. C. Shepard, Auburn postmaster and president of Placer Pioneers, has charge of the arrangements.

A special program is being prepared for the occasion and a good time is assured to all those who attend, Shepard announced yesterday.

PLACER BOARD ACTS TO GET LAKE ROADS

AUBURN, Sept. 12 —(X.S.)—The Placer county board of supervisors has adopted a resolution taking over the paved roads in Acquisition and Improvement District No. 1 on the eastern side of Lake Tahoe following a plea by residents of Kings Beach and vicinity.

The roads were constructed in 1926 and paved at a cost of $100,000.

Since then there has been no provision for their maintenance as they are not county roads. Residents contended the original investment will be lost unless the county maintains them.

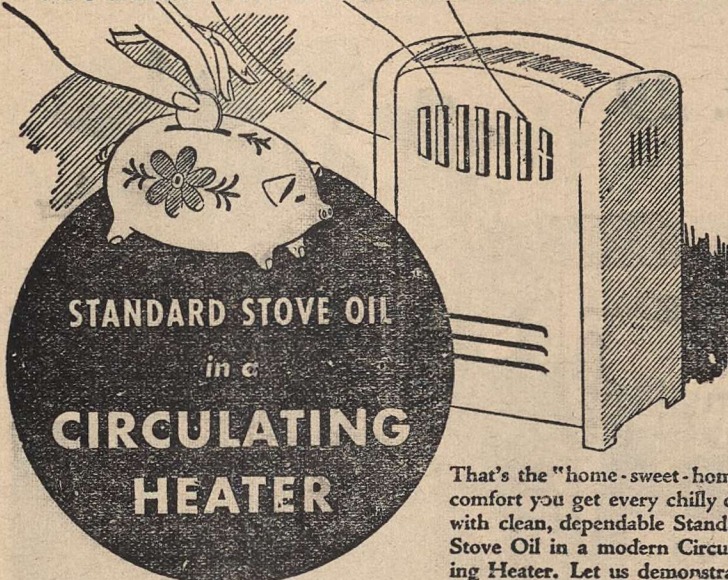

District Attorney Lowell L. Sparks advised the supervisors the action is legal.

RAILROAD CONTINUES 'GRAND CIRCLE' RATE UNTIL NOVEMBER, '41

The "grand circle tour," by which a railroad passenger can arrange a transcontinental round trip at a substantial reduction in fare, will be continued for another year, according to R. P. Bick, agent for the Southern Pacific here.

Inaugurated by the railroads last year to stimulate travel to the New York and San Francisco World Fairs and to points of scenic interest throughout the country, the "grand circle" plan has been used by more than 32,500 persons, it was stated. It will be continued in effect until October 31, 1941.

Under the plan a "grand circle" coach ticket can be purchased anywhere in the United States for $99 or a first-class ticket for $135, plus the present low "grand circle" Pullman or parlor car rates. Trips from 6300 to 8,000 miles can be arranged, depending on the starting point and the route selected. Passengers may choose any of Southern Pacific's Four Scenic Routes, with stopover privileges at any points desired, it was pointed out.

Saturday Set as Central Valley Project Day At Fair By Governor Olson

Saturday, September 14, has been proclaimed by Governor Culbert L. Olson as Central Valley Project Day at the Golden Gate International Exposition. The day will be the highlight of the Construction Industries Jubilee which will be held on Treasure Island from September 12 to 15.

Colored motion pictures showing progress of construction work on Shasta Dam and other units of the huge water and power undertaking will be shown in the Central Valley Project exhibit in the Hall of Western States throughout the jubilee.

conscription, providing such conscription is deemed necessary by Congress and the President.

In addition, Mann stated, every member of the order who might be conscripted or who might join any branch of the armed forces of the United States, would be carried as a beneficial member on the roster of the subordinate unit to which he belonged at the time of conscription or enlistment without having to pay the usual monthly dues. The minimum dues of the order are one dollar a month and all members in good standing are entitled to certain sick and funeral benefits and in many cases to free medical service.

Truckee River Area Is Growing as Home Center

Increasing interest in summer and winter home sites along the Truckee River is reported by C. A. Tollefson of Big Chief Camp.

Tollefson, representative of the Tahoe-Truckee Forest Preserve who owns this subdivision on both sides of the Truckee River from Nevada County line to Lake Tahoe, reports that he has sold five lots, ranging from one to two and a half acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ray bought two lots fronting the river a short distance above Big Chief. They have built a temporary camp and expect to erect a permanent summer home next season. Ray works as conductor on the Southern Pacific and his home is at Roseville.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bourke of Reno, both ardent ski enthusiasts and no strangers to the district, are building a rustic cabin on a lot purchased from Tollefson. Bourke works in a Reno book store and his wife is employed by the telephone company.

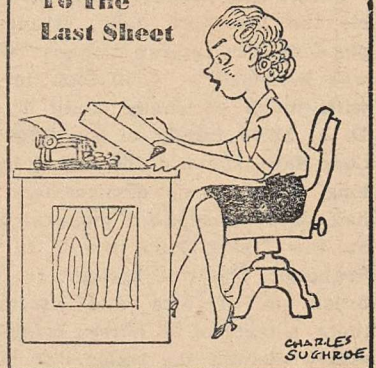

Mr. and Mrs. David P. Herstine, also of Reno, have purchased an acre lot a short distance below Big Chief and have their cabin nearly completed. He is connected with and works for an auto metal shop and his wife is with the business office of the telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Herstine, brother of David Herstine, have bought an adjoining lot and are planning on building next year. The Harry Herstines own and manage the Nevada Hotel in Reno.

If It's Heavily Advertised It HAS to be GOOD

OUR BRAND of democracy was won for us, and is being held for us, by men who chose their own careers, owned big farms, built big factories, and did what selling was necessary to keep those farms and factories busy.

One of the biggest aids in mass selling is mass advertising. In the long run, it "polices" itself.

Advertising of poor products always fails. Only a first rate product, fairly priced, can stand the dazzling glare of national advertising. When you think of the heavily advertised soups, soaps, breakfast foods, mechanical refrigerators, automobiles, silverware, radios—you are thinking of the aristocrats among commercial articles.

Old Newspapers Are Found

Items of Local Lore In Columns

Winter Sports Promotion

Several fires have destroyed all the official files of the old Truckee Republican, now consolidated with the Sierra Sun, but the present editors have been fortunate in securing two copies published during the first decade of this century. One is dated April 4, 1912. The other has had the date torn off but the volume number sets the date as sometime in 1904.

Most of the items—strangely enough—would strike a familiar note to a great many people now residing here. Names and incidents that have become those of Truckee's pioneers found an excellent chronicle in the community's pioneer newspaper.

Daring Harold Laity

One of the first items that came to the eye was one under "Local Mention" in which it was recited that "Harold Laity was out Sunday taking a spin in his automobile. He was about half way to Donner Lake but the snow that is yet on the ground stopped further progress." This was in the 1912 issue.

According to the 1904 paper "W. F.
Wilkie the grocer has received his holiday shipment of China and glassware. It is the finest line ever received by a Truckee merchant. They are now on display in his store." Mr.
Wilkie is still doing business at the same old stand under the name of Truckee Mercantile Company and is —as always—a consistent advertiser in the home-town paper.

Lodge Officers of 1904

In the older paper, too, are three lodge notices. Under Knights of Pythias, C. Hope is listed as chancellor commander and F. M. Rutherford as keeper of records and seal. In the Native Sons of the Golden West, G. F.
Kelley was president and H. C. Dennis was secretary. William McDougall was then president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and I. F. Harvey was secretary of the order here.

By 1912 Harvey was president of the Eagles and Chas. E. Smith was secretary. On page two under the professional and fraternal directory column, you will find C. E. Smith listed as secretary of this Aerie. How times change! Or do they?

In the ad columns of the 1904
Republican is the following notice

"Where Are You Going?"

"Why to the"

"OAK TONSORIAL PARLORS"

"The only first-class shop in Truckee where you can get fixed all right.
Three chairs going. The only Porcelain Baths in town and a rub-down if you want it."

"DAN SMITH, Prop."

Hobart in 55 Minutes

According to the issue of 1912,
Mark Richardson and Chas. Frazier of Hobart Mills received delivery on two automobiles. The seven mile trip over bad roads was made in 55 minutes.

The later paper also gives record of some of the industry prevalent in the area at that time. Mention is given of several lumber mills and of a Pacific Fruit Express ice house.
One ad calls attention to the fact that "Truckee is situated on the line of the Central Pacific railroad, just over that crest of the Sierra Nevada mountains on the Eastern slope at an elevation of 5820 feet above sea level. It is becoming famous for its winter sports while the summer attractions of this vicinity are UNEX-CELLED in the state."

These and many more items of interest are to be found but we cannot fill a 1940 paper with ads paid for in 1904 and 1912 nor with news of that time but our readers are invited to inspect these relics at our office.

SAFETY FIRST

Almost anyone can install electrical wiring and electrical apparatus so that they will work after a fashion. But to install them so that the greatest degree of safety will be assured, that their mechanical perfection will be realized and that the installation will be forever free from constant tinkering is another matter.

And that brings up the matter of doing electrical work in a "maybe-or-may-be-not" fashion by yourself or having it done by an expert electrician. Each year the National Board of Fire Underwriters add up thousands and thousands of dollars, needlessly destroyed by fire through well meaning but incompetent workmanship of amateur electricians. Is your home, your most valued possession, worth gambling against the few dollars charged by the master electrician or the chances of fire through amateurish workmanship?

fied and with James Garibaldi, sped to Norden where the train was searched without avail. It was believed that the man leaped from the train before it reached Norden and it was then he talked with the track-walker.

Organized Search

The organized search here, led by Dolley, employed forest service men, railroad employees, high school youths, horsemen and men from all walks of life who thoroughly scoured the hills and woods throughout the vicinity of Truckee. Trains were searched and cars stopped.

An all-points bulletin was sent out on the state teletype and with such an accurate description it is believed the man will be apprehended. The search today turned toward Sacramento and Roseville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keck and children expect to go to San Francisco to see the fair before it closes on September 29th.
